Island Health is seeking enthusiastic candidates for several permanent neurologist positions on Vancouver Island, BC.

Join the teams in Victoria, Nanaimo or the Comox Valley and enjoy island life in one of the warmest places in Canada. We are looking for candidates with excellent general neurology skills. Additionally, we have opportunities to work within many of the sub-specialty areas in our hospital-based clinics. With its diversity of landscapes, rich heritage and robust cultural scene, the Vancouver Island region offers an opportunity for a work-life balance prioritized for a healthy and sustainable career.

We are happy to receive applications from any sub-specialist neurologists wanting to bring their expertise to our communities. Island Health has strong academic affiliations with the University of British Columbia and the Island Medical School postgraduate and undergraduate programs. Teaching opportunities are available.

Island Health's Division of Neurology prides itself in providing quality initiative and leadership training opportunities, a clinically driven and unwavering team approach, as well as clinical research supported through the Vancouver Island Research Centre.

At Island Health, we recognize, gain knowledge and respect the differences in each individual we serve. The right to feel culturally safe is for everyone.

THE COMMUNITY

Vancouver Island is home to British Columbia’s historic capital, ancient rainforests and carefree surf towns. This sprawling island is dotted with eclectic communities inviting you to find your place.

The island stretches for 460 kilometres, from the ornate capital of Victoria in the south to Cape Scott’s windswept beaches and rocky headlands at its northern tip. Along with the Gulf Islands, this rugged paradise combines old-growth forests, snow-capped mountains and untamed shorelines to create one of the planet’s most diverse ecosystems.

Island Health has career opportunities within a wide range of urban, rural or remote communities. Whatever the lifestyle you are looking for, we will help you find it. The island’s cities are brimming with cultural events, festivals, markets and restaurants as well as friendly towns with close-knit neighbourhoods and world-class outdoor adventure.

Vancouver Island offers an exceptional environment for both living and practicing medicine, allowing you to achieve and surpass your professional and lifestyle aspirations.
